Hail to the Redskins!

This is the official song of the Redskins. Its lyrics were written by Corrinne Griffith and the music by Barnee Breeskin. It is published by Leo Feist, Inc. Sheet music and recordings are available in all major music and radio stores.

HAIL TO THE REDSKINS, Hail Vic-to-ry,
Braves on the war-path, Fight for old D. C.
Scalp 'em, swamp 'em, We will take 'em big score.
Read 'em, weep 'em, Touch-down we want heap more.
Fight on. Fight on till you have won.
Sons of Wash-ing-ton (Rah! Rah! Rah!)

HAIL TO THE REDSKINS, Hail Vic-to-ry.
Braves on the war-path. Fight for old D. C.

A Decade of Broadcasting

FOR the tenth consecutive season, the American Oil Co., makers of Amoco Products, will bring Redskins fans on-the-scene, play-by-play accounts of all home and road games over a vast AM and FM radio network stretching from Maine to Florida.

The Amoco-Redskins association thus continues to set an all-time high for the broadcasting industry. No other sportscast of this magnitude has enjoyed such consistency of performance.

For the call letters and wave length of the AM or FM station in your city carrying the Redskins game, turn to the inside back cover of this manual. Consult the schedule on the inside front cover for the kickoff times.

Charities Net $1,250,000

IN non-conference games sponsored by leading newspapers and civic organizations throughout the United States, the Redskins have assisted in the raising of more than $1,250,000 for various charities. This does not include any sums raised in this year's pre-season games for four newspaper charities.

The Redskins' outstanding contribution has been in Los Angeles where the annual Redskins-Rams game sponsored by the Los Angeles Times has NETTED more than $500,000 for the Times Boys Club.

A similar series in Baltimore, sponsored by Variety Clubs of Washington and Baltimore, netted $125,000 for boys club activities.

During World War II, two Redskins games collected $122,369 for service relief funds. Another $300,000 has been raised in Denver, Birmingham, Dallas, Memphis, San Francisco and other cities.

Mr. Football

A familiar scene in Griffith Stadium—Sammy Baugh besieged by autograph seekers

WITH this season, Sammy Baugh sets an incredible all-time football endurance record. This is Slingin' Sam's sixteenth year in the National League. No other player in professional football history has survived that number of campaigns. Enhancing the record is the fact that every one of those seasons has been spent in the Burgundy and Gold of the Redskins.

Actually, Sam has been playing football for almost a quarter of a century—24 years to be exact, counting varsity, freshman and high school ball. Some of his teammates had not been born when he heard his first school cheer.

Every time Sam throws a football, completes a pass, gains a yard in the air, tosses a touchdown pass, he sets a world record. All of his records are listed on this page and the next. A biographical sketch of Mr. Football can be found on page 18.

Presenting the 1952 Amoco Sportscasting Team

MEL ALLEN

JIM GIBBONS

THE American Oil Company presents its tenth consecutive season of Redskins professional football broadcasts. This season it is proud to present a new member of the Amoco team, the famous Mel Allen, as its Redskins sportscaster.

Here's a man who knows football from locker room to final whistle, and whose uncanny ability to call every play exactly as it happens has made his sports broadcasts radio classics.

His was the voice you heard from the Rose Bowl, coolly analyzing each play. He was the man who made the Sugar Bowl game, the Blue-Gray All-Star game "come alive" to millions of listeners. He's the man whose all 'round sports experience has made him the natural choice for World Series and All-Star baseball classics. No wonder in 1950 the radio editors of America voted him the country's Number One Sports Announcer, and the Radio-Television Academy of Arts and Sciences awarded him its first "Michael" (the radio equivalent of the famous movie "Oscar").

Right beside Mel Allen at every Redskins game, right through the season, will be your old friend Jimmy Gibbons. For nine years, Jim has brought you the color and excitement of Redskins games, and during the 1952 season, he'll work hand in glove with Mel Allen to give you football at its best—professional football brought to you by the American Oil Company and its Amoco dealers.

Big Time Showtime at Halftime

Santa Claus making his annual visit to Griffith Stadium in helicopter

A BRIGHT feature of every Redskins home game is the half-time show—always a smartly-paced presentation in which some of the biggest names in show business have participated.

Tumblers, toyland trains, animal acts, tight-rope walkers, acrobats, visiting marching bands, tap dancers, precision dancers, folk dancers, Indian dancers—all sorts of top acts from the entertainment world have performed in these Redskins "revues."

Best of all is the Christmas Show, annually produced at the last home game in which Santa Claus makes his "official" visit to the Nation's Capital. Santa's mode of transportation into Griffith Stadium is always a closely guarded state secret.

In the past, he has come by dog sled and horse-drawn sleigh, toy train and trick auto, helicopter and parachute. (Correction: He's never come to Griffith Stadium by parachute, exactly. He miscalculated and landed on a rooftop behind the South Field Stands.)

An integral part of these halftime shows is the 110-piece Redskins Marching Band—an entirely volunteer organization that has been playing at all Redskins home games and many road games ever since 1938.

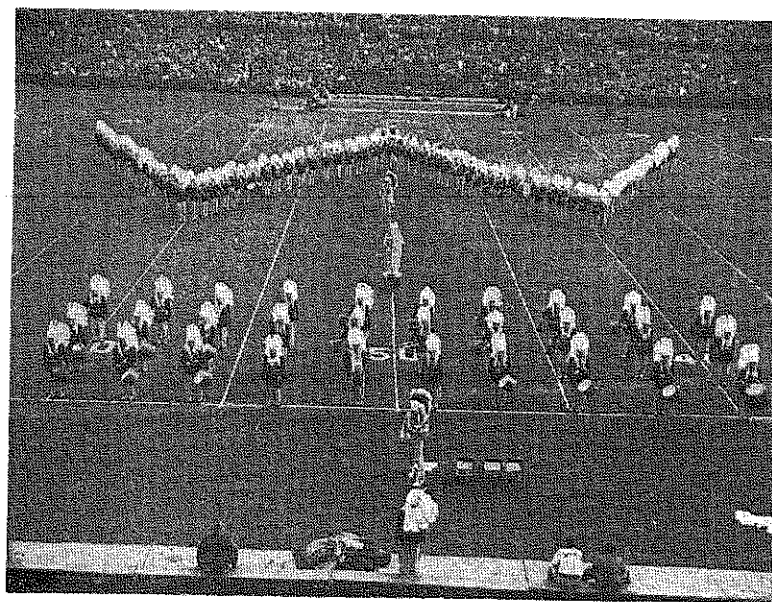

Twice, it has played and drawn plaudits alongside Fred Waring, Paul Whiteman and the Philharmonic in the Philadelphia Inquirer's Music Festival. It has represented Washington in the big annual Lions' Club parade in New York City. It has marched up Broadway at the head of 15,000 invading Redskins fans. And it has entertained at games in Cleveland, Philadelphia, Boston, New York, Baltimore, Norfolk and Pittsburgh.

The band is composed of amateur musicians of all ages and occupations—printers, plumbers, and sheet metal workers; mechanics, painters and electrical engineers; law and medical and high school students; salesmen, bookbinders, and, yes, old soldiers, who never die but just play away.

The organization is military-like. Each marching line is a unit under direct command of a Chief, who is responsible for his unit's musical and marching ability and discipline. These Unit Chiefs are answerable to the Band Director.

The band has its own special arrangements of more than 200 songs, with each arrangement carefully tailored to 90 seconds so that it can fit snugly into a time-out on the field.

The band's drum majors have diagrams of scores of maneuvers, man by man, and step by step, and, in one rehearsal, can whip the band into any design from a shamrock to a Christmas tree.

Coaching Staff

HEAD COACH—DICK TODD

NEW as a head coach, Dick Todd is an old hand at football—and an old friend of Redskins' fans. He played with the National Capital entry from 1939 through 1948, with two seasons out for naval service, and was rated one of the greatest running backs in National League history.

Dick turned down head coach positions at Texas A. & M., his alma mater, and Texas Tech to return to the Redskins last season as backfield coach. After the third game of the campaign, he found himself head coach of the 'Skins. He won five out of nine games and was reappointed for a full term over several outstanding applicants.

Todd, who celebrates his 38th birthday this season, set national scoring records at Crowell, Tex., High with 318 points in one season and 664 in four years. At Texas A. & M., he tallied 116 points.

Equally great on offense and defense, Todd ranks third among all-time Redskins ball carriers with 1,573 yards and an average of 4.27 yards per try; second among pass receivers with 119 caught for 1,826 yards; and third among scorers with 214 points. In his final season (1948), he led the club in pass receptions and scoring.

Todd is married, has one child, and lives on a farm at Crowell, Tex.

ASSISTANT COACH—HERMAN BALL

Herman Ball, Dick Todd's first assistant, has been associated with the Redskins for almost a decade, serving as game scout, talent scout, line coach and head coach. His tenure as head coach spanned three years—the last five games of 1949 when he succeeded Vice Admiral John E. Wheelchel, USN (Ret.); the full season of 1950; and the first three games of 1951.

Ball was born in Elkins, W. Va. He attended Davis-Elkins College where he was running guard on the club that led the nation in scoring in 1933. Ball served as assistant coach at University of Maryland under Dr. Clarence W. Spears (1943-44), Paul Bryant (1945) and Clark Shaughnessy (1946).

While at Maryland, he began scouting for the 'Skins in 1944. He was hired as a full-time assistant coach and chief scout in 1946. He was promoted to line coach, then head coach in 1949.

Ball is married to the former Edna Staniforth of Cumberland. His son works for the National Broadcasting Co. The Balls live in a Washington suburb—Hyattsville, Md.

BACKFIELD COACH—JERRY NERI

This is Jerry Neri's first season in professional football, but the National League is sprinkled with players he coached in college.

A native of Philadelphia, he attended Northeast High and Villanova College. After coaching high schools a couple of seasons, he went to Villanova as backfield coach under Jordan Oliver. From 1944 to 1948, Villanova teams won 33, lost 20, tied two against such opposition as Army, Kentucky, Tennessee, Navy, Texas A. & M., and others.

When Oliver was lured to Loyola of Los Angeles in 1949, Neri went with him. Loyola's best season was in 1950 when they lost only one game. Last year Neri's backfield led the nation in forward passing.

Neri is married and has two children, Gerald, 4, and Philip, 1. They live in Los Angeles.

LINE COACH—MARVIN BASS

Marvin Bass performed one of 1951's outstanding coaching chores when he took over as head coach at William and Mary just before the season opened and led the club to a surprising 7 and 3 record. His victims included mighty Pennsylvania and Duke.

Continuing the surprises, Bass then resigned because he disagreed with the school administration's athletic policies.

Bass, 32, is a native of Petersburg, Va. He captained the 1942 William and Mary eleven that lost only one game and won the school's first Southern Conference championship.

After two years in the Navy, Bass returned to William and Mary as line coach under R. N. (Rube) McCray in 1944. Except for 1949 when he went to North Carolina as line coach, Bass stayed at W. & M. as No. 1 assistant until the summer of 1951 when McCray resigned and he took over.

Bass married the former Audrey Lee Wallace of Newport News, Va. They have a 4-year-old son, Ranny, and live in Alexandria, Va.

The NFL's Two Leagues

THE 12-team National Football League actually is two leagues of six teams each—the American and National Conferences. The champions of the two conferences meet at the end of the season in the big world championship playoff game. This two-league set-up has been in effect since 1933 when it was devised by George P. Marshall, then president of the Boston Redskins.

The Redskins are in the American Conference which, because of the quality of the member teams, is popularly called "The Conference of Champions." The conference line-ups, with the teams listed in the order of their finish last season:

American	National
Cleveland Browns	Los Angeles Rams
New York Giants	San Francisco Forty-Niners
Washington Redskins	Detroit Lions
Philadelphia Eagles	Chicago Bears
Pittsburgh Steelers	Green Bay Packers
Chicago Cardinals	Dallas Texans

The league is headed by Commissioner Bert Bell with offices at 1518 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
