THE COACHING STAFF

Vince Lombardi

HEAD COACH AND EXECUTIVE VICE-PRESIDENT

2nd Year with Redskins   Became Head Coach of the Redskins February 1969

"I hope to be a winner the first year."

This was the statement made February 6, 1969, by Vince Lombardi as he accepted the Head Coaching job of the Washington Redskins.

The 1969 Redskin record: 7 wins—5 losses—2 ties.

The winning record hoped for by Lombardi was realized.

It was the first winning season for the Redskins since 1955, ending a 14-year famine.

It also kept intact Lombardi's great record of never having had a losing season, nine at Green Bay and last year at Washington. His 10-year record now stands at 96 victories, 34 losses and 6 ties. It was remarkable that the 7 wins and 5 losses was the identical record Lombardi had in his first year at Green Bay in 1959.

This gives him the second best winning percentage in pro football, .738%. The Rams' George Allen has the best mark, .755%, with 40 wins, 13 losses, and 3 ties.

With 4 more wins, Lombardi will be the 8th coach to reach the 100-win record. The 7 coaches who have attained 100 or more wins have been George Halas, 321; Curley Lambeau, 230; Steve Owen, 150; Paul Brown, 111; Sid Gillman, 110; Weeb Ewbank, 109; and Buddy Parker, 102.

Vince Lombardi played his collegiate football at Fordham University where he was one of the famed "Seven Blocks of Granite." After attending Law School at Fordham, he coached and taught Chemistry, Latin and Physics at St. Cecelia High School in Englewood, New Jersey.

Then in 1946 he became the line coach at Fordham University where he served until 1948 when he was named assistant to Earl "Red" Blaik at West Point.

Lombardi left the U.S. Military Academy in 1954 to join the New York Giants under Jim Lee Howell as offensive line coach. In four years with the Giants, they won two Eastern Division Titles and one World Title.

In 1959, Lombardi went to Green Bay as Head Coach and General Manager and dramatically altered the football fortunes of the Packers. He took the Packers from a 1-10-1 record to contention his first season and from 1960 on, the Packers never finished below second as they captured 6 Western Division and 5 World Championships, including an unprecedented three in a row from 1965-1967 and the first two AFL-NFL World Championships in 1966 and 1967. Overall his record was 141-39-4 for a .783 winning percentage.

In addition to serving as General Manager of the Packers, Vince Lombardi also serves, holds, or held the following awards and positions: Chairman of the Board, Public Facilities Corp. of Madison, Wis., Fordham University's highest award—the Insignis Medal; The Senator Brien McMahan Award; Trustee of Fordham University; Citizens Committee of St. Norbert's College; President of the State of Wisconsin Mental Health Association; Chairman of the State Cancer Fund; Di-

†League Record   *Club Records—Eagles   Club Records—Redskins

In 1968, Jurgensen was hampered by injuries and missed three full games and parts of others. He had an elbow operation May 18 for removal of calcium deposits. He participated in training camp drills sparingly. He did not play until final pre-season game and led Redskins to win over Steelers. After the fifth game of the season with Pittsburgh, it was discovered that he had fractured ribs. A special protective cast was made and had to be worn rest of season. A severe case of the flu also hit him during season. He finished 8th in the NFL in passing. In 1968, he threw 4 TD passes in opening game against Chicago.

Referred to as having the "quickest wrist" of any thrower in the history of the game, Jurgensen holds the all-time pass yardage total for one season in the League, as he threw for 3737 yards in 1967. The total Redskin passing yardage of 3887 yards in the same season is the all-time high in the League for a team in one season.

In winning his second passing crown in three years last year, Jurgensen had 274 completions in 442 attempts for 3102 yards and 22 touchdowns. The 274 completions total is the second highest ever in the League, topped only by Sonny's 288 in 1967. He is the only passer ever to gain over 3000 yards in a season five times.

When he hit running back Charley Harraway with a touchdown pass in the 17-14 victory over New Orleans in the next to last game of the season, he moved into second place in all-time career touchdown passes. It was his 213th scoring toss of his 13-year career, moving him ahead of Y.A. Tittle, who has 212. Baltimore's John Unitas is number one with 278 scoring tosses in 14 years. He is also listed second behind Unitas as the second best lifetime passer.

Twice Jurgensen has thrown five TD passes in one game; passed for over 400 yards on five occasions; and has thrown for over 300 yards 23 times in his career, three of these posted in 1969. Unitas also leads in this department with 25 games of over 300 yards. Jurgensen has passed for over 400 yards five times, three with the Eagles and twice with the Redskins.

When he threw 4 touchdown passes against Dallas in 1969, it was the fifth time he has accomplished this since joining the Redskins.

Since joining the Redskins in 1964, Jurgensen has finished in passer ranking as follows: 3rd., 10th., 2nd., 1st., 8th., and 1st.

Jurgensen's career can be divided into three segments:

As a Philadelphia reserve, 1957-60, he completed 72 of 141 for 1242 yards and 11 touchdowns.

As the Eagles' regular quarterback, 1961-63, he completed 530 of 966 for 8397 yards and 65 touchdowns.

And, since joining Washington as the Redskins regular quarterback, 1964-69, he has hit on 1380 of 2419 for 17,151 yards and 137 touchdowns.

During the 1969 season, Jurgensen was the quarterback on every play except ONE. That occurred in the Eagles' game at Franklin Field when he had to leave the game with a knee injury at the end of the half. His able back-up quarterback, the veteran Frank Ryan, came in and threw a completed pass. On the very next play, Sonny returned to hold the ball for kicker Curt Knight for a successful 43-yard field goal.

the pass receiving title. He is the third tight or closed receiver ever to finish in the top ten with his three finishes following his 7th place ranking in 1969. The others to finish in the top ten have been Tight Ends Mike Ditka (four times) and Pete Retzlaff (three times).

For 1969's unanimous All-Pro tight end, his 54 receptions and 9 touchdown catches represented the best by the League's tight ends. It also marked the third time Smith has been the number one tight end in the League, 1966 with 54; 1967 with 67. It was also the 4th consecutive year the five-year veteran has finished in the top ten pass leaders of the NFL. As a 1965 rookie, he started the last five games and has been there since. However, in 1968 he played all season as flanker when he caught 45 passes, 9th best in the League. Smith's '69 tight end reception leadership was the 3rd time for him. The only other tight ends in the history of the League to finish in the top ten have been Mike Ditka (four times) and Pete Retzlaff (three times). His 67 receptions in 1967 are the most ever caught by a tight end in the history of the League. His 3 TD receptions against Dallas marked second time in career he has caught 3. He caught 3 against Rams in 1967.

Smith finished tied for 7th last year with the Browns' Gary Collins. His 54 receptions was one less than teammate Harraway. His 9 touchdowns was only 3 behind the League leader, the Cowboys' Lance Rentzel, who had 12. He was selected to the Pro Bowl for the second time.

Johnny Morris (93), Mike Ditka (75) and Jon Arnett (25) for 193 receptions in 1964 was the former high.

Notable: His 53 receptions on way to 1964 Rookie of Year honors set new NFL record for most receptions by a running back in the NFL.

Became Redskin: Dec. 2, 1963. Redskins No. 1 draft choice for 1964.

Pro Career: 1964 Rookie of the Year, first Redskin to win this honor. First rookie since 1943 to be in top ten, rushing and receiving—6th rushing; 8th receiving. All-Pro and Pro Bowl selection first four years in the league. Taylor won the pass receiving title for 1966, catching 72 passes for 1119 yards and 12 touchdowns. He repeated in 1967 as top NFL receiver with 70 for 990 yards and 9 TDS. The 72 receptions tied the Redskin season record held by Mitchell. Taylor was part of the "big switch" midway through the 1966 season. The Redskins' finest running back was moved to split-end. The switch came in the seventh game against St. Louis. It was late in the first quarter that Taylor surprised and left his halfback post and went outside. Before the switch, from his halfback spot, Taylor caught 18 passes for 348 yards and 4 scores. Seven games later, he finished as the league leader. His 12 TDs by receptions tied him with Hugh "Bones" Taylor for most touchdowns by receptions for a Redskin and his total of 15 set a new Redskin touchdown mark for a season. Against Dallas in the first game, Taylor caught 11 passes to tie Mitchell's mark for most receptions in a game. He caught passes for more than 100 yards in five games. He had 4 in 1967.

The 1-2-4 finish by Taylor, Smith and Mitchell marked the first time in the history of the NFL that three receivers on the same team finished that high, and the combined 197 receptions was the most by a three-some in the top-finishers, ever. The pass receiving title went down to the final game of the season as the four battled back and forth to the leadership throughout the last half of the campaign. In fact, Taylor and Smith went into the final game tied for the lead with 62 catches each. Taylor won it with 8 catches against Smith's 5 against New Orleans.

In '66, the trio finished first, sixth and tenth. Taylor led the league, with Mitchell sixth and Smith tenth.

The finish in 1967 was even more phenomenal since Taylor missed three games because of an injury and Mitchell was running back for five games, from the second through the sixth game. Taylor led the team in receptions again in 1968 with 48, 7th in the NFL.

Taylor has ranked in the top ten receivers each of the 6 years in the League, all with the Redskins. He won the pass receiving title in 1966 with 72 receptions and repeated as champion in 1967 with 70 catches. Last year he was second with 71 receptions, one shy of the Redskin record of 72 he gained in '66. Going into the final game of 1969 he was tied with the winner, the Saints' Danny Abramowicz, who finished with 73. He has been first team All-Pro 1964 through 1968. In 1969 he was a second team selection.

For his 6 years in the NFL, Taylor has averaged 59 catches per season, the best of any active player in all professional football.

He is ranked as the 2nd all-time active receiver. Mike Ditka is the leader.

In 1969, after Mitchell retired at the beginning of the season, Taylor placed second in the league with 71 receptions for 883 yards and 8 touchdowns.
